Agreement to Conditions for Use of Photographic and Audiovisual Works

A. The person (researcher) requesting or making copies of Arizona Health Sciences Library (AHSL) Special Collections photographs or audiovisual works assumes sole responsibility for securing copyrights and other permissions that might be required prior to use of copies other than for private study.

B. Copies made for users are strictly for the purposes identified as "fair uses" by §107 of the Copyright Act: "such as criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching (including multiple copies for classroom use), scholarship, or research." In determining whether a use in any particular case is a fair use, the factors to be considered include- (1) the purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes; (2) the nature of the copyrighted work; (3) the amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole; and (4) the effect of the use upon the potential market for, or value of, the copyrighted work. Note that all factors are considered together, not in exclusion.

C. Before using a photograph or audiovisual work in a publication, performance, or other product except according to the conditions of Fair Use, the researcher is responsible for securing permission from the rights holder. Certain individuals depicted may claim rights in their likenesses and images. Use of photographs or other materials found in the AHSL Special Collections may be subject to these claims. Anyone who intends to use these materials commercially should contact the individuals depicted or their representatives.

D. Whenever photographs or audiovisual material from AHSL Special Collections are used in a publication, performance, or other product, the item must carry a credit line stating: "Courtesy of Arizona Health Sciences Library, Special Collections." The name and record series number and/or call number of the source of the material should also be cited.

I/we hereby agree to conditions A-D as specified above.

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
